

'Do you want to know who you are? Don't ask. Act! Action will delineate and define you' Thomas Jefferson 3rd President of the United States (an Aries)

April 2010 – Month of Aries

And so begins another astrological year. April the month of Aries the Ram and astrologically marks the true start of the year. This is the time to set plans in motion, initiate projects, and embark on a journey. Aries begins to be exact on March 20, the Spring Equinox, when the day and night become equal; Egyptians believed that this is the sacred turning point of the year. However a bit of backtracking and researching may be necessary before we burst forth with enthusiasm. Mercury, the planet of communication spins backward mid month, so it may be a case of revisiting, redoing, and restarting again. Delays and challenges are up ahead especially of a financial nature, so go with the flow, pushing a situation won't get you far. Rather use this time to re-organise and reflect so when all gets going again, we can move with energetic confidence towards goals.

Astrostars Monthly Forecast

Aries

April is the month you've been waiting for, this is the time to go for it, big time! However, trying to make career inroads will have a few technical hitches. Rather than swimming against the current, go with it, you haven't found your feet to instigate your power, (just yet). Biting the hand that feeds you may be irreversible, play it cool, keep an inner counsel so when the tide turns in your favour you know what you want. April 14 your good to go, time to launch your plans, reinvention of yourself will brings new ways of relating to others. Expenditures will see you outlaying large amounts of money, make financial decisions mid next month and get a budget in order. Communication thrives, you have the gift of the gab to PR yourself or sell an idea, an appreciative audience will help build confidence. April 27 will see some relationship differences, this time you are going to have to deal with it! Laying your feelings on the table and stating your case will clear up any difference of opinions, with a clean slate you can finally move on.

Taurus

The grass seems to be greener on the other side, applies to a Taurus these days. Somewhere further afield lays a more a fertile pasture, and you need to go in search of it. Venus in your sign gives you the schmooze factor to help you with your quest; people will be falling over themselves to assist. Mid month communications go a little askew, launching an idea or project will be beset with issues but you are able to handle this with your down to earth composure. Reviewing and researching benefits at this time to make visions come to fruition. Dreams of holidays and adventure change your everyday focus, having an aspiration keeps you going when chaos reigns. By April 24 money flows, a promised pay rise or bonus materialises, giving you validation that hard work was not in vain. It's all about relationships when the moon peaks end of month, for better or worse you come to emotional decisions. April is about looking beyond to future possibilities. You have the tools, you have the knowledge and experience now you need to go forth and make it a reality.

Gemini

Pivotal changes of last month have led you into a new trajectory. Excitement mixed with trepidation can be daunting, but you're still finding your feet. Now that you've set the course of action, you can't look backward. Past friendships conclude, new people enter your life to change your direction. Venus moves into your sign giving you the oomph to set the world on fire, people will be succumbed to your charm; yes they'll be eating out your hand! The full moon at the end of the month sheds light on your career, staying where you are or moving on maybe the case of better the devil you know. Mulling over issues, the past, present and future meet. You cannot move forward until you've cleared the back log. Out of this contemplation, resourceful plans for the future are created. As they say, necessity is the mother of invention and you as a Gemini know how to flourish and make use of your unique talents to capitalise on an opportunity.

Cancer

Relationships are a learning curve, understanding the dynamics of individuals, sets you on a personal path. The transformation in other people's lives, have caused implications to your own. A partner's change of profession or a close colleague who has left the workforce has influenced your personal decisions. Relationships are altering hastily, what once started as an amicable friendship has progressed into a strong union, in fact pretty soon it may be time to seal the deal and make a wow. But keep in mind it is for better or for worse, so to reach your dream, you will need to know the road ahead will sometimes get a little rocky. From April 7 you need to revisit partnership issues that that have plagued you in the past. Facing emotional problems or work related fears head on and finding solutions will free you from burdens that have tied you down. Soon you will be ready to soar professionally, mid month will give you a taste of things to come in the future. So muster that confidence of yours, its onward and upward from here on.

Leo

You're well and truly back in the saddle. Mars energy has kicked in and you're raring to go, ready to make an impact. This brings on a desire to express your individuality and to set yourself apart from those around you. However, moving up the ladder and launching yourself may not materialise as quickly as hoped. Even though your ambition is boundless you will need to learn play the waiting game. Financially it gets tight, expenditures from last year come back to haunt you, once you clear the debt, you learn by error wowing never to fall into such a pitfall. Venus brings fun and frivolity back into your social life. Friendships old and new are joyful and pleasurable, a rapport develops, and you make connection. The home life gets tense, as your social and working life move into the next gear, balancing family demands may be a juggling act. Pace yourself there is plenty of time to make it, it will happen; just not tomorrow.

Virgo

After much thought and procrastinating you're about to take a risk into the unfamiliar. Life has become a bit banal and now there's an opportunity that forecasts your horizons are about to open up in challenging ways. A travel adventure, relocation or a new study program is intermingled with excitement and fear. Being a bit of worry wart you tend to over think, which can ruin your exuberance. Mid April you may need to revisit past issues, such as relationships or work problems. Once you get through the next few months, you'll be able to look back knowing it was worth it. Impressing VIP' in the business with your talents will make those that doubted now sit up and take notice. It's hard to really know in any great ventures that you embark on if it will succeed or fail but if you don't put yourself out there you may just end up living a life not lived to your potential. So take a leap of faith and trust that all will be ok.

Libra

Partnerships are the focus this month, as relationships change and develop you learn in the process about yourself and others. It's a delicate balance, giving and taking, being in control or playing submissive. Strategy is needed; you more than anyone else know how to win against adversities with diplomatic charm. In the mean time the home environment will not be feeling so warm and fuzzy. Your working life has been demanding, your home life nonexistent. Give some much needed attention; otherwise it may escalate into a dilemma. As you embark on a large project or instigate personal changes, reservations and fears about the future creep up. Rather than being enslaved by such anxieties, understand the core of your fears and how best to face them head on. Despite this all, the lure of distant lands, keep you striving and surviving in a tense period. An adventure or journey in the not too distant future will have transformative effect. You're ready for something different and this may propel you into a new way of viewing the world.

Scorpio

April sees you in going into the career arena with guns blazing; you know your worth and now is the time to make it known. If people won't come to your way of thinking, you will find an appreciative audience somewhere else. Offers are there for the taking, and you not afraid of using your trump card if need be. Soon they will come around, you're an asset to any organisation and now it's time to name your price. Communications get a bit awkward mid month; it may be hard to convey what you really feel, revisiting some past issues and being clear about your feelings on the matter clears the confusion that has plagued you. By the end of the month when the full moon hits your sign on April 28 you've come to a realisation about yourself, and your personal needs. Finally free from a career conundrum you are aware what you want and where you want to be, you may not have it all today but knowing sets you free from self doubt.

Sagittarius

Inspiring motivating experience are not far off as you look to broaden your horizons and expand your world. Nevertheless, travelling to distant locations or relocating has its fair share of difficulties, Money and finances may be at the crux of it, increasing expenses has put you in a state of uncertainty you may need to outlay a large amount of cash to make this dream a reality. Learning to balance your funds will take some discipline and there will be some hard and fast lessons you will learn over time. Career quandaries from early April are just glitches on the path to glory, ironing out issues will take the last amount of energy you have left, despite your exhaustion if you try one more time, success is assured. Plans will now proceed towards your goal at a rapid rate; there is a feeling of buoyancy and confidence. Mid month love and creative passions thrive, a new hobby or flirtation is exciting and thrilling. Relationships bloom and become more permanent giving you the stability and security needed in a changing and fluctuating world.

Capricorn

Last month was eye opener, all was revealed, finally you can see the wood from the trees. Forced changes have instigated a transformation, its time make a break, the moment is right. Perhaps a reinvention is needed to propel you onto a new course of action. A hobby or creative venture is in gestation, ready to emerge with possibilities. Love and lust is incited by an intense attraction, this magnetism sets in motion a chain of events, nothing light weight here! Acting in secret to avoid opposition or interference from others you make plans for the future. A house move or relocation comes to fruition, setting up roots changes your perspective. The end of the month it comes to an emotional crescendo with your friends. You may be ready to move on and find new landscapes; they may take offence at your new found independence. But when new circumstances come into one's life, something comes to an end, and you need to accept this and know that the unknown future holds vast potential and it up to you now to explore these possibilities.

Challenging

Aquarius

It's a fluctuating and changeable time, with excitement and nervousness you head into the unknown. Circumstances in the home life are changing rapidly; there really isn't time to deal with the consequences of what is expected or what the future holds. A relationship, relocation or journey has thrown life into a spin. Your profession continues to move a mile a minute which has its advantages of course, but you know you have to deal with personal changing situations sooner or later. Luckily and lucratively you are reaping the financial rewards for past work, alleviating the tension and making the load a little lighter. April 28 the full moon emphasises your career. Gaining power and position brings its own set of circumstances which you will need to deal with as you ascend up the ladder of success. Close personal relationships comes to your rescue in the midst of the chaos, conversing with your nearest and dearest brings to light any anxieties you're currently experiencing. Knowing that you are deeply loved and admired keeps your feelings from flagging. A holiday or journey in the pipeline will take you away from the madness and the mayhem, a much needed rejuvenation is in order.

Pisces

Your new found confidence and exuberance is giving you the chutzpah to make visions a reality. But before you go all out, rein it in, practicality and feasibility are needed to make ideas concrete. Rather than knowing it all and doing it all, your connections this year with influential people will be beneficial in reaching your goal. However, not all your friends will be swept up with your desire to expand and may not have your best interests at heart, try not to reveal your intentions so openly. Revisiting past relationship issues will be uncomfortable, you're not so upfront in such matters, but the time has come to face problems head on and move on once and for all. Money will come up trumps mid month you're astute when it comes to finances and know how to master situations for your betterment. So take one step at a time, having rather grandiose schemes too soon will only be to your detriment. The year is a very rewarding so ensure you have your bases covered before you make a move.
