

*'For last year's words belong to last year's language. And next year's words await another voice.
And to make an end is to make a beginning'. T.S. Eliot, American poet & playwright*

December 2009 Overview

As we count down to the ending of the year, December will be nothing short of exciting, revealing and a thought provoking month. What transpires this month especially in the last few days will set the stage for the year to come. Party time begins when the full moon in fun loving Gemini on December 2, hits the social sector. Responsibility and hard work which has been very much the mood of 2009 gives way to celebrations, fun flirtations and just enjoying the moment. The new moon of December 16 is in the adventurous sign of Sagittarius. Destinations are taken of the spiritual or geographical nature which will enhance our vision for the future. Finances, spending and cash will of course be on our minds at this time. Getting your financial house in order before the year is through will make life a whole lot simpler when 2010 kicks in. The lunar eclipse on December 31 is all about completion and finally closes the door to 2009. Endings may be difficult or just a sheer relief, but it offers a new life if we can let go of the old one. Roll on 2010 a new chapter is about to begin...

Monthly Stars – December

Aries

Issues begin to gain clarity after chaotic times. Your mental energy which has been on high alert for much of the year will reach a pinnacle on the full moon of December 2. Hopes and fears surface at this time; it will be challenging but will release you from any emotional baggage. Contemplating your career aspirations for next year will be food for thought over the holiday season away from the commotion of life. Mid December onwards will give you the power to overcome obstacles and re-make your working life. The influence of an encouraging friendship can change your life significantly in the days and weeks to come. Relationships deepen and time spent with those you love will help sort out any issues that you may be experiencing. Financial family affairs or a house move for 2010 will be top of mind when you reach the end of the year. It's certainly a cathartic month but once you clear the backlog you can move on, a little older and wiser but free from self doubt when you hit 2010.

Taurus

Friendships have been perplexing, but these misunderstandings begin to clear from the start of the month. Soon creative and unusual people will enter your life, changing the group dynamics and influencing you in a positive way. Before you turn your back on 2009 set your financial affairs in order which will ensure you have worry free 2010. December 2, full moon will highlight your value, and if you feel you are not adequately compensated now would be time to state your case. A culmination of endurance and defying obstacles will see financial rewards come to fruition. By December 21, new life will be breathed into goals and ambitions. You're able to gain personal fulfilment from what really makes you happy. Relationships of the expansive kind come into focus when you open yourself to new possibilities. It is only now you are able to look back, see you're wrong and rights and streamline a life more productive for 2010. But before you do, congratulate yourself you really have travelled a long way in 12 months.

Gemini

You're career is back on track, any restrictions you have encountered in the past will be eradicated. Professional opportunities will arise; finally you will be able to show your creative talents and capabilities to an appreciative audience. The full moon on December 2 shines the spotlight on you. It is a heady time indeed, emotions are high and you may be feeling giddy by the attention. December 16 begins a new exhilarating friendship which is instigated in a flash, causing an exciting upheaval in your life. Discussions about finances, home loans, and property take precedence when the New Year dawns highlighting your wealth and security. Watch out there maybe a falsified feeling of money in the bank, cover yourself and ensure that you have a safety net. December 21 will be a very enriching day, positive influences are aglow. Opportunities are aplenty from publishing, travel and creative ideas, giving you a taste of what is in store. 2010 is a milestone year, your moment has arrived, and it's time to step up onto the stage and shine.

Cancer

December will be a turning point setting the scene for the year ahead. Fun and frivolity occur in the work arena, there won't be any guilt when the time comes to truly enjoy you. Karma comes back, and you'll be in line to receive a bonus or salary increase for hard work done in the past. You've certainly earned it! Partnership discussions occur, December 7 will be an excellent time to seal the deal and enter into a negotiation such as an investment on a property or business partnership. November 16 brings vibrant energy into your working life; perhaps a new dynamic person will enter changing the status quo. Even though you are a creature of habit, go with the flow there is much to be gained with shifting circumstances. When Christmas arrives a union is blessed you are really are unified and there ain't no turning back. The full moon brings the closure; the past way of life has finally ended. Welcome to 2010 a new era is about to begin for Cancers.

Leo

Love and life will be expansive and adventurous this month. There may be a possibility of attractions when you journey away from your locale. Or taking off to distance shores with one you love will change your mood and perspective for the coming year. This month friendships are in the spotlight. A silent feud between you and another has been taking place below the surface, erupting at full moon time of December 2. Feelings are fired up so keep calm you may later regret what's been said. Due to passionate Mars in Leo for many months there will be lots of inner energy up. Sport or activities will help unleash the beast within. Work will be demanding, obligations of a financial nature need to be accounted for before you close up for the year. The final days of the month you will have to come to terms with your own hidden agendas and motivation. Yes it is a bit of soul searching but you realise some deep issues and will be ready tackle whatever 2010 has in store for you.

Virgo

The clouds of confusion are finally clearing, misunderstanding in relationships become more lucid from early in the month. The full moon of December 2 highlights your professional sector, affecting how you see yourself in your role and how others see you. It is not so much a career crisis that you are experiencing more that you want respect for who you are and what you contribute. From December 16 a new home life begins, a change of scenery changes your perspective giving you enthusiasm and a joy de vire for life again. Love affairs and attractions reach intensity on December 21; feelings will be strong and passionate. The lunar eclipse on December 31 will hit home your friendships and the need to invest your time and energy in building a stronger bond. Taking these emotions into 2010, you move towards cultivating a true and honest partnership with others. You can bid 2009 a good bye; a sense of freedom has now been gained transforming how you relate to others in a positive way. Life will never quite be the same.

Libra

Chaotic work conditions of the past six months begin to subside. Necessity is the mother of invention, so you will find original and creative ways to transform your working life. Throughout the busy year you have neglected your home. Creating a sanctuary in the midst of the mayhem is necessary for your survival in the year ahead; December 7 would be a good time to begin. Venus gives charm in your dealings, how you express yourself will have encouraging ramifications on others. A close working bond begins with another, trust and mutual admiration develops. By December 21 an exhilarating creative project or attraction brings excitement and passion into your life. The month ends with the lunar eclipse on December 31 highlighting your career. Recognition is received but for a price and you understand the commitment you have made to uphold your status. Bringing to balance your work and lifestyle will be a challenge for the year ahead. Above anything else to have good health and peace of mind will ensure you lead a happy and positive life in 2010.

Scorpio

Original ideas and creative visions are in development. Ambiguity gives way to certainty and you are able to move forward confidently with a master plan in mind. Money will begin to flow which is a welcome relief after a financially tight year. The full moon of December 2 will draw attention to gaining more funds especially from your employer. Completing projects by a deadline will put you in a state of panic. If you put the hard yards in today, you are guaranteed a stress free start to the year. From December 21 a renovation, relocation or a home purchase will transpire giving you much optimism. Ensure you stay grounded and practical rather than being taken over by flights of fancy. Your world seems limiting when the eclipse falls in your house of travel, there is a desire to expand your horizons and stretch your wings. 2010 will give you the push towards adopting a new belief and that will see you through any negativities. The world is really your oyster and there is much to see, learn and achieve in the year ahead.

Sagittarius

Life gains some normality after the chaos and living life in a state of flux. Inspired visions and new ideas take hold. Venus brings the glitz and the glamour into your life giving you the savoir faire to overcome any sticky situation you find yourself in. The full moon on December 2 highlights relations with those that you share a close bond. Issues that have lain subterranean come to the surface, and once they do it will be liberating for both of you. December will be all about personal beginnings; you may be hurled into the limelight. No stranger to the centre stage, you take it like a duck to water flexing your skills and charm. The lunar eclipse of December 31 will be all about finances and sorting out your funds. It will be a headache to clear the backlog but necessary if you are to go into 2010 worry free. With your plate full of projects for the coming year, bringing your life into balance is needed if you are to survive and thrive in 2010.

Capricorn

Finally issues resolve themselves and life begins to fall into place. Contentment comes when you retract yourself from the world to spend some time in quiet introspection. This will give you the chance to look back and see how far you have travelled but also where you want to venture in the future. Taking time out will help build inner reserves which will put you in good stead for the year ahead. The working life is quite the conundrum, the full moon of December 2 highlights you're status and what plans need to be executed in the future. Light comes at the end of the tunnel from the new moon of December 16, giving you a clearer sense of direction. Venus glows in your sign mid month bringing hope and love into your life. By December 27 a potential partner has the chance to manifest into a stronger union. As the end of the year draws to a close, you are released from restraints. Burden free you can move on positive in the hope there are new people and opportunities for the taking in 2010.

Aquarius

Money is more fluid, finances that have been in a state of fluctuation, begins to gain some stability. Venus brings warmth to your friendships, upping your social scene. Time will be spent in December just enjoying yourself with the company of close friends and those you love. The full moon of December 2 highlights your creativity and love relationships. There may be a lot happening here with much nervousness and excitement for the future. A creative project is about to begin or perhaps you are making a union more permanent. Plans will be made behind the scenes, ready to reveal soon in the New Year. The future seems idyllic from December 21, there is much expectations and hope to make a dreams manifest. The lunar eclipse of December 31 closes the chapter on your working life. No longer will the way you work be quite the same. How you express yourself and how people will perceive is up for a metamorphosis in 2010, it's been a cathartic year indeed! The hard part's done; it only gets better from here on.

Pisces

You have been in the go slow lane for a while, but now the wheel of fortune has turned your way. Dreams and visions take flight, initial confusion of the past couple of months subside. Venus is in the career sector brings notable people into your life. VIP's and those that are well connected will ensure that you make it happen. Full moon fever shines a light on the home life; financial issues come to the forefront and must be dealt with if you are to move on trouble free into the year ahead. You hit a high when the new moon hits your career sector on December 16, recognition and rewards will transpire soon paving the way for a truly glorious 2010. By the time you reach the end of the year you may need to end a romantic union or creative partnership that seems a bit in the doldrums. But best to look forward not backward as next year will be a truly amazing year, all you need is a little self belief, fate will do the rest.