

'It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of light, it was the season of darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us, we were all going direct to heaven, we were all going direct the other way'. Charles Dickens 'A Tale of Two Cities'

December 2010 Overview

The month of December is really about endings and beginnings as we come to a final close of 2010 with a lunar eclipse. The lunar eclipse, when the earth shadow falls on the moon, of December 21 gives us the impetuosity to take a risk and make a much needed change in our lives. We finally see the light and a pathway is lit up with a new way forward. Of course we may want to move fearlessly into the future, but endings are never pleasant. A new beginning may also mean a death of an old way of life and may take while to come to terms with this. Every relationship, job and project has its cycle of endings and beginnings as our feelings and motivations change as time passes on. The month of December really promises an opportunity for a new life if one can let go of the old one. We leave behind a previous life to prepare for an unknown future.

Monthly Stars – December

Aries

December won't be the stable of months; changes around you will put you in a state of flux. Your professional standing is a little on shaky ground. Structural alterations may not give you the power that you have been able to exert in the past. However if you take these adjustments with an open mind you will be able to look back in 6 months time and see that these were necessary for growth and opportunity. The eclipse of December 21 concludes what has been a tough year mentally and physically. Coming to terms with the not so agreeable side to your personality is not always easy. Knowing that you played a part in the unfolding of events can be a revealing experience however it's cathartic and can release you from a repetitive situation. Free of personal encumbrances, 2011 is all about building relationships and partnerships that may not always be easy but will grow to be dependably rock solid and will go on to withstand the test of time.

Taurus

A frenzied month but you will achieve your needs by the end through sheer will power and mind over matter. For starters travel plans may go a little haywire from December 10 and you would be advised to double check details and ensure should you give yourself plenty of time to reach your destination. Finances are at the top of mind for most of the month. From early December there are visions to create a new monetary plan within a partnership such as a business, property or launch a project that will have a certain degree of risk. Culminating, eventually to a financial crescendo of the eclipse on December 21. There may be large sums of money or an outlay of funds that may make a stable earthy Taurus a little insecure. However sometimes in life it may be necessary to take risk use resources rather than saving when new opportunities arise. The eclipse is such time to take a gamble and step into a life a little daring but exciting. Nothing ventured nothing gained and 2011 will see you journey far from your comfort zone into a brand new territory.

Gemini

The path to career and status has been erratic and confusing, early December sees your sense of direction return, and finally you know where you're heading. Friendships that have been strained of late or out of sync begin to see promise. In fact a friend may open the door to an opportunity or offer a helping hand for the future. The area that may get a little murky is your finances especially when in a partnership. Keeping a clear head, checking the fine print and not signing on the dotted line in haste will ensure you don't make any financial errors. Delaying until early January is advised so you don't get into a monetary tight corner. The eclipse of December 21 in your sign is very poignant, something comes to an end at this time and although free the after effects will be felt well into the New Year. Positively a much needed reinvention is in order; you've sacrificed and come through not so much with shining colours but survived and are still standing! 2011 will see a brand new you emerge, one that has the confidence and uniqueness to ensure next year will not only be stimulating but memorable.

Cancer

Your working life is hinged on making a choice. Do you walk away from the security of what you have built to an uncertain possibility of a new direction which may or may not lead you to future success? If you stay safe there is a danger of stagnation and lacking in vitality. Yet this new possibility contains a life force and potential for growth which may outweigh the rewards of the secure path. From December 5 a new opportunity opens up and it's time for you to take a leap of faith. Mid month communication within a partnership get a little confusing. You may not be seeing eye to eye with another especially when it comes to finances, property or a creative issue. However this is a good time to contemplate and make plans for 2011. Reflecting on your past achievements and seeing how far you have come will help you face pending difficult decisions. The time has come, have the courage of your convictions that all will turn out just the way fate intended.

Leo

A love relationship is bound together with deeper issues such as sex or financial resources. As much as there is promise, not dealing with concerns today may create calamities tomorrow. December 5 is the time to start looking honestly at what you have, and see effective ways to build a relationship up for the better. Funds entwined with another that was once murky and erratic starts to gain clarity and become a little tangible, together you work it out. A new factor has come into your working life. An opportunity to better yourself and strive for something greater has given you confidence which has been lacking of late. You're driven to achieve for personal and financial status. Not one to sit on the sidelines the next few years will be very instrumental for you in making a name for yourself. The lunar eclipse of December 21 ends or changes the dynamics in a relationship. Something has to end or maybe the way you relate to someone needs to alter. It's time to face a friendship truthfully and make amends, understand what went wrong and that it is not too late to make things right.

Virgo

A transformation to your home life is entwined strongly with another. Perhaps you are changing your living circumstances by setting up a home or in the process of buying a property and forming a monetary partnership. December 5 is when a new home life begins that will bring you much happiness and fun with other people. A new love relationship is still in early days yet but there is much discussion and talking with the object of your desire. All may not be smooth sailing, from December 10, before you embark on a relationship you may need to go back to the past to clear any misdemeanours with other people. Any wrongs need to put right before you hit 2011 with self assurance. Launching creative ventures will hit a few snags so be prepared to go back to the drawing board the second time will be much more stable and long lasting. The end of the month brings into the picture an alteration to your career. Veering in a new direction is recommended, a new job, new location or even an office move will inject some much needed life so you ready to strive purposely into 2011.

Libra

Your image is tied very closely to your working life. You want to present a dependable yet light and easy going persona but may have trouble striking that fine balance. It has not been easy to convey the right tone and feel to people, but from December 5 you have a chance to reinvent your style for the better. Change your thinking and how you communicate and soon it will all start to fall into place. Much of the month will be centred on the home; there are plans and schedules that need to be adhered to. Moving home, a renovation or buying a property will put you at times in state of unrest. Expending energy may at times cause a few emotional spats it can get a little feisty when you have put your blood sweat and tears into a project. By the end of the month it all comes good, but pushing something may only cause a catastrophe so tread warily and ensure you don't do anything rash. The eclipse at the end of the month is all about travel, you finally arrive at your destination, or a journey that has been in preparation is about to begin amongst excitement and fear. 2011 sees you embarking into a new venture whether geographically or metaphorically, your mindset is about to change radically.

Scorpio

A love affair or a creative project has thrived this year, at times it has been unpredictable and even a little chaotic but you have grown through this union or project. You may want to shower your object of affection with luxuries or invest in a creative endeavour but unfortunately cash may be a little low. Juggling finances and finding solutions to financial problems is what you do best, from December 5 a new monetary project takes momentum and you can save, invest and even spend wisely if you have a good plan in place. Your communication and persona is going through dramatic changes, a change of job has forced to rethink how you come across to people. Your mindset is geared to becoming a person of power and you have force to go all the way to the top if you don't let your insecurities drown you. Your ambitions are fired however you need to understand getting there won't be a hop skip and a jump, careful forethought and strategic thinking is needed. By the time 2010 comes to a close it may end a financial tie with another, either a financial loan, payment or other emotional financial link. Debt free and the load a little lighter you sail confidently into 2011 knowing the future holds much promise.

Sagittarius

The home and family life will be all consuming affecting your life and persona. Activities centred around the home such as selling, buying and relocation will have you on the go. Money will be a contentious issue; there will be discussions and meetings on the matters of finances and obligations. It may be hard to extract funds from other investments or resources at this time; early January seems more favourable and safer to sign on the dotted line. Early in the month new plans and motivations begin for you; there is a desire to change your image and communication style to enable you to reach a wider audience or public. Once you do there may be no going back and you will have to strive forward with confidence even though sometimes you don't believe it. The lunar eclipse of December 21 ends a partnership, this does not mean that there is finality just that someone may leave your life and this time and you need to come to terms that people change and grow within a relationship. New people and the dynamics of fresh unions bring growth and new beginnings into your life. 2011 will see you enter into business and personal relationships that are going to have a very powerful affect on you for the future.

Capricorn

Your outer persona is due for an update, how you are perceived by others is going through deep seated change. During this month feelings and emotions at times can get a little erratic even for a down to earth sign as you. Taking yourself away from the situation and having some down time will give you chance to decompress and recharge your batteries on what has been a rather tumultuous year. You may want to move forward with great zealous determination into the future but will need to put the brakes on at least until the early 2011, the world will wait. By the end of the month, a professional relationship may come to an end and will not doubt have an influence on your working life. Changes around you give you the impetuous to make some very bold moves which are not usually in line with a surefooted sign. A radical and rebellious streak is all part of the metamorphosis that you are currently experiencing. 2011 dawns an exciting and challenging year ahead. You move forward with self assurance that you able to surmount obstacles and make some much needed changes that have been in the pipeline for a long time.

Aquarius

Not the easiest of years comes to a close soon, however there is still time to make any wrongs right and wipe the slate clean. Friendships is the sector in your life that will go through a spring clean, old friends disappear to make way for new dynamic people who are about to enter your life. Out of this a close partnership can blossom and there is potential for something to develop into a full blown attraction. Money dilemmas begin to clear but your desires may be still at odds with what you really can afford. Ensure your budget can accommodate your big dreams, put them hold until you have enough saved. Your mindset is changing, there is power behind your thinking and next year sees you gain confidence and rise to prominence. By the end of the month a love affair or creative project comes to an end, it's time to put the past behind you and look towards the future. There may be some finality and closure and you can now move onto 2011 free from any restraints and limitations that have kept you down.

Pisces

It's been an expansive year on the career front, obstacles have been overcome and opportunities are now there for the taking. Building your self image and lifting your status in the world is of paramount importance. However your forcefulness may fall flat so best to wait until you make some gains before you PR yourself. From December 5 a new professional career begins, changes in structure brings fresh prospects. Powerful people come into your life; close personal unions are formed that have the influence to take you places. Due to backward motion of planets communication with friends for the short term may not run so smoothly, you may not see eye to eye. Crossed wires will begin to uncross early next year. End of the month the lunar eclipse will end a home situation, a change of living, location or family life will be in food for thought at this time. With Jupiter the planet of luck in your sign for two more months, fate and opportunity will play a big part. Hopeful, you go into 2011 knowing that you can build your reputation and make presence known to the world.
