

'No matter what people tell you, words and ideas can change the world'.

Robin William, Actor and Comedian (A Cancer)

July 2010 Overview

Ramifications of the lunar eclipse that took place on June 26 in Capricorn are still being felt, the after effects continue well into the next six months. On a global scale Capricorn rules government and business structure. Eclipses can bring out changes in political leaders, resignations of CEO's and company mergers. None so apparent when Julia Gillard, Australia's first non elected women Prime Minister took leadership ousting Kevin Rudd in swift takeover. On a personal level, subterranean feelings burst forth, either karmically or consequences that we find ourselves in precipitates such change. Capricorn eclipse is all about professional and public life, so there will be some navel gazing when look to see what we have achieved materially and how our public personas are seen by others. July 11, the solar eclipse which stands for new beginnings starts a new cycle of positive changes in home and family life. There will be a conflict between wanting more professionally or staying within our comfort zone where is all secure. Striking a balance is necessary to have a well rounded life. During this time we reach an epiphany, finally we see the light, and once we do there is no turning back. Eclipses give us the impetuous to make radical changes and live our life a little less fearlessly.

Monthly Stars – July

Aries

July is certainly a time to make your mark now that your self-assurance has been regained but be aware brazenness may be to your undoing so tread warily until you have sussed out the scene. There's a desire to accomplish your goals rapidly, however new ideas may be impeded, especially by authority, so take some strategic steps to bypass problematic people. Plans and dreams for a new home or change of relocation are in gestation, the winds of change are giving you the daring to make a move and expand your space with others. Love blossoms on the work front, your charm and charisma is winning an admiring crowd so you use it to your advantage to get what you want. The full moon brings into question your friends, who they really are and do they have your best interests at heart? Some friendships come to an end; it was past its use by date, new ones begin with promise of excitement, love and stimulating company. The time has finally arrived to graze greener pastures!

Taurus

Your mind is conjuring up all sorts of visions; there are many options to tackle before you exhaust all possibilities. Calculated risks will pay off if you move stealthy and practically, otherwise you run the danger of it going pear shaped. Creative projects and new love interests will be humming with activity. Fresh opportunities have injected a new lease of life, you are raring to go now and poised for new challenges. Your mind is reaching out far beyond the boundaries of your world, don't dismiss contacts or acquaintances they could be the door to the future. Responsibility and a perseverance to your work ethic continues, you are dedicated and zealous in achieving, you won't take no for an answer. July 25 the full moon shines on your career, there will be weighty issues to tackle, but once you set your course of action there is really no turning back. This is not the time to scuttle back to safety, now is the time to be fearless as fortune does favour the brave!

Gemini

New exciting friends and contacts are expanding your world. Taking a bold brash step, connecting with long lost friends and those in distant countries will bring rewards. Soon well connected people that you never imagined will be swirling in your orbit. They bring with them fresh opportunities to make money or change your course in life through travel or new ventures. However, remember that all friendships are karmic so you have to give in order to get. The new moon on July 11 brings new ways to earn money through hobbies or creative ventures, a lottery win or a bonus brings abundant circumstances. With the Mars energy and force behind you're expanding your horizons, the world is global and someone as fast thinking as you needs to lift your profile a little higher. Reaching a creative juncture has dilemmas but you're not one to throw in the towel so quickly. The full moon end of July highlights long distance travel; soon it will be time to embark on a journey that will be instrumental in changing your life direction.

Cancer

Career matters are in a state of flux, you're at odds, unsure which path to head down. Making radical changes now will pay dividends in 2011 even though it may not seem like it today. Finding a way out of a stale or restrictive situation releases you to new possibilities enabling you to see the wood from the trees. July 11 will bring a rebirth and a reinvention, you are ready to take the plunge and leave the safety of the cave for something a little daring and out of the ordinary. The home life will bring some tension as plans change for the future, where you want to live and with whom do you want to share a home. One decision impacts another so think wisely before making choices. The full moon culminates in you shared resources sector, as you move to the future the lines of division may become bleary. Wealth, assets and property come under the microscope when united with another. Changes are up ahead, you have had a glimpse of fabulous year to come so get a move on there is really no time to waste.

Leo

Seeking adventure and new horizons is where your aspirations lie. The calling of far of lands is ruminating in your mind. A new future holds possibilities if you let go of the old life. Dreams need to be acted upon to make them tangible lest they dissipate into thin air, so don't ignore your intuition. Venus in your money sector gives you the yearning for luxuries, you want to go out and spend big time. Try being a bit prudent the future has many changes so a nest egg is required in fluctuating times. From mid month you will be going through some career change, a reinvention or new persona is in order to create an innovative chapter in your life. With your gift of the gab, talk the talk and get some new possibilities on the table. Mars will be making you a little feisty in your conversations and actions, you want to take some action and move with a purpose. The full moon puts the spotlight on your personal relationships, freedom and commitment will be the heart of the matter so work through this practically to reach resolution.

Virgo

Changes are taking place in joint ventures or shared resources. Now's the time to take a bold step and merge your assets with another, buying a property or building a business together will prove very lucrative. Positive aspects next year will see your finances and wealth grow through resources such as inheritance, sale or other joint funds. Confidence is high after receiving praise and accolades for your achievements, hard work has been achieved and from here on it will be a walk in the park. July 11 will bring beneficial friendships that will be instrumental in the next phase of your working life assisting you to launch exciting creative projects. Initially monetary constraints will be imposed upon you, a financial outlay is necessary to bring make endeavour a reality. The full moon of July 25 highlights your working life; you have travelled so far and now must make some radical moves if you are to optimise your talent and skills. For most of the month Venus love vibes gives you a glowing boost you should be now on top of the world; you can finally celebrate, the dark days are well and truly over.

Libra

Relationships are on the move, associations end and new people come into your life. Contact is made with people you haven't spoken for a while, instigating a momentum of their own. Through acquaintances, a new career path is illuminated; there is a way out of the darkness if you follow your intuition as a guide. July 11 begins the road to success, an opportunity to show your latent talent is in the pipeline, however the time is not ripe, planning wisely for future endeavours is the way to go. There will be of course mountains to climb and obstacles to surmount but the pain is worth the gain. Take one problem at time, concentrate on the here and now and work through issues systematically. Emotions will be overflowing at the time of the full moon of July 25, there are passionate feelings about love or creative project, you feel strongly and intently about someone or something and you hope these feelings are reciprocated. By the end of the month Mars in your sign propels you to put your best foot forward once you do there is no looking back.

Scorpio

The time has arrived for you to seek new work opportunities and become free from the excessive demand of others. Breaking free from restrictive patterns created by yourself will instil changes and help you find a greater freedom and new experiences. Next year you will be reinventing the wheel in your working life and changing your status quo. In the mean time you need to ensure you have enough qualifications under your belt, no use talking the talk if you don't have the credentials to back up. Hope springs from July 11, a travel journey or a change of location is anticipated, movement brings a mental awakening as your world and perspective shifts. The full moon of July 25 brings it back home; you need to get your house in order before you decide to spread your wings. The home life has had its share of instability but you have ridden it out determined in the face of adversity to create a peaceful environment. Friendships are your back bone and they will assist you in expanding your world and believing in you, even when sometimes you lose faith in yourself.

Sagittarius

After trying times and disheartening situations, the doors of love and creativity are about to swing wide open. Love flirtations now flourish with promise of exciting times to come. Creative visions that you assumed were dead and buried get a resurgence of life. New ideas come out like a bolt from the blue instigating you onto new trajectory. Partnerships with people are the access to success, if you are willing to be open to their concepts and ideas. Once you join forces, ventures will be lucrative and productive especially on July 11 when you seal the deal with a golden handshake. The full moon of July 25 highlights your thinking and believing, you may need to change your mindset if you are to survive the next six months. Operating in the open Sagittarian manner won't win you favours; you really need to be a lot shrewder if you are to make monetary and professional gains. Soon you will be noticed by VIP's that will see your raw talent and will help harness your strengths. July is about getting yourself together inner and outer, and once you do well the sky's the limit.

Capricorn

The consequence of the lunar eclipse can still be felt; the outcome of this can carry up to six months. There is a feeling you have crossed a bridge and cannot turn back, an ending or finality has occurred. This does not necessarily signify negativity; often it can mean a new job, relationship or a location move. Changes are implied in your home life, as much as there is expansion and development, disruptions occur, new people enter to break the pattern of your everyday life. From July 11 a new relationship era will begin, early days yet but there is a promise of much more to come in the months ahead. Your career is going through a major learning curve, gaining a position of power not only brings wealth but responsibility and accountability. Capricorns have it to ascend, but there is much to learn and the climb can get a little rocky. The full moon brings in the money and gives you the financial freedom that you have been craving. Yes the revolution of change has been set in motion and Capricorns are the ones leading the pack and blazing a trail.

Aquarius

The lunar eclipse has changed your thinking and inner persona. New thought processes are taking place, there is desire to throw caution to the wind and say and do what you want, as for too long you have been towing the line of least resistance, the time has arrived to set your own course. Mars the planet of energy activates the house of money and shared resources, there may be some tension with another, so set the lines of division, otherwise you may find you are the one out of pocket. From July 11 you are looking further afield at a new profession, the time has arrived and the offers are on the table. There is a good price for you on the market, but check out all options and what's on offer before you commit. July 25 the full moon highlights an emotional time; there is much happening, incidents happen in your life to change your destiny. A pivotal time indeed, a new era is dawning and you are standing in the wings ready for the first act to begin.

Pisces

The wealth and status section of your life is looking decidedly healthy; fortuitous situations of the past have brought good financial dividends and payments. However, beware and be wise, feeling flushed with cash may give you a spring in your step but in this GFC time anything can happen so keep a nest egg and don't spend irresponsibly as you will pay the price tomorrow. Mars brings a few debates and discussions within personal and business partnerships; you can get a little bolshie stating your case. You realise issues need to be cleared and this time you're not going to be reticent about it. July 11, new love relationships blossom that has the potential to become something deeper and permanent. The full moon weighs heavily in the subconscious there are strong feelings for someone that will not lie subterranean forever. Time to go with your gut instinct, there is much further to travel, but first tie up loose ends and ensure you have crossed or t's and dotted your i's.