

March 2009 Overview

After the full blown effects of the Lunar eclipse of last month, endings of some sort would have taken place. We have come to terms with this and our ready to begin again, clearing the decks, tying loose ends and preparing for a future that awaits us. Venus spends much of this month in backward motion, past relationships or business partnerships are revisited, this time round we can clear any confusions and misunderstandings. Now we can begin again with a clean slate and an awareness when Venus moves forward on April 17, (a rather long duration). Mars the planet of energy moves into the mystical sign of Pisces, energy levels will be low as Mars the fiery planet does not sit comfortably in this watery sign. However this is good time to search for the spiritual, explore your creative side and look back and access the last 12 months and see how well you have managed the art of living. The Spring Equinox occurs on April 20 which means 'equal day and equal night. This is the start of the astrological year which always begins in Aries the Ram the first sign of the zodiac. We celebrate new beginnings with Easter, which means new life so this would be the best time of the year to create new intentions that you want to transpire this year. What you decide to create now will have energy and force behind it so go forth with gusto and confidence in the month of March.

Effects of the Lunar Eclipse

The lunar full moon eclipse that peaked on February 9 has had a catastrophic effect on the weather patterns, shifting tidal and energy forces. This can be seen in its truest form with the bush fires of Victoria and the floods in North Queensland. A lunar eclipse casts a shadow over the moon bringing an end to situations. The full moon was in the fire sign Leo, which would account for the raging fires and Leo's ruler being the sun is seen at her harshest over burnt bush land.

But Leo is also the sign of the Lion which stands for bravery, courage and pride, and this is apparent by all those who battled bravely to save their homes and takes risks in the face of human danger.

The Sun was also conjunct by Neptune at this time. Neptune rules the tides and bodies of water therefore causing floods and chaos in the Queensland area. Thankfully we will be influenced by Aquarius in Jupiter, the humanitarian sign in the benevolent planet, which will hopefully see us open our hearts and wallets and give to our brothers and sisters.

Monthly Stars – March

Aries

Pleasure and bliss rank over work and responsibility as Venus brings enjoyment into your life, new and exciting people will begin to enter your sphere. Parties, social activities, flirtations are all happening right now making you look and feel attractive, and as you bask in the joy of being the centre of attention. Backward moving Venus on March 6 will take the sizzle out the passion, you may go over old ground with an ex and issues that have been swept under the carpet may come to light creating a make or break situation. Creative projects or financial affairs need to have a strategy for the future, Mars is giving you the power behind them to make these ideas manifest. Watch out on March 12 when you may just let fly with your feelings, emotions that have been subterranean come to the surface, challenges to authority, and arguments may not serve you in the long run. The equinox on the March 20 will bring your life into some sort of equilibrium. Rest assured, past preparation will be rewarded with new prospects on March 26 so be ready when opportunity knocks as plans take on a momentum of their own.

Taurus

Good times, warm feelings and social opportunities take place from March 9. As you have been out of communicado for a while or just not able to socialise due to burning the midnight oil at work, you begin to reestablish contact and invest some time to develop friendships again. Unusual relationships can be built at this time, which will affect you enormously in the months to come. The career arena picks up pace, opportunities and exciting projects come out of the woodwork but be aware that nebulous Neptune is following you close by so situations are not so straight forward, ensure contracts and emails are checked. From March 1, you're talking the talk and campaigning your attributes, but you know you can deliver on promises. The full moon peaks on March 10 in your sector of creativity and love. Relationships become emotionally intense and creative developments hit an obstacle. Once this time passes, strong feelings subside, creative ideas begin to flow and have hopes of becoming a reality. Soon you will be able to set sail on calmer waters your about to arrive at new and exciting world that is certainly going to be life changing.

Gemini

March will see you buzzing with many projects on the boil, flitting from one thing to another and generally stimulated with many tasks that you want to tackle over the coming months. As a multitalented Gemini you tend thrive in a buzzy atmosphere, and derive a little pleasure from difficult situations that you are well able turn into a positive. After a couple of overwhelming months late last year in your career, the working life is on an upswing, you've come good and people now really appreciate your contributions and calm unflappable demeanour. March 10 the moon swells to the fullest, home issues come to ahead, issues need to be dealt, rest assured problems will pass, but right now decisions need to made and concrete plans put in place. March 12 gets heated so keep your head when all about our loosing theirs. As fiery Mars enters your career zone on March 14, you're ready to take the world by storm, the unusual and the unique will get noticed so don't hold back. March 21 sees ideas and hard work come together as visions for the future come to fruition. Keep glowing with confidence the world rewards enthusiasm and action.

Cancer

There will be a hype of activity taking place at work; communications will be abuzz reaching frenzy towards the end of the month. All this flurry and action will not go unnoticed; you are appreciated, acknowledgement will soon follow. Beware you don't hit mental overload especially on March 10 with the full moon, make sure you have some down time or you may self combust. A past relationship figures prominently, perhaps it is someone you have worked with or a past lover will return. You will be able to re-establish this relationship in a more positive light. Motivated Mars is instigating financial and property plans into motion. Nevertheless be aware, even the best laid plans can go askew especially when Neptune the vague planet surrounds this house. So ensure you check contracts and documents especially around March 8. Out of the blue short journeys may happen, keep an eye on March 12 and be ready to explore the world and come out of your shell like comfort zone. A blissful escapade is what you desire, if you could just get past the chaos and arduous tasks, so be ready to take flight an exciting journey awaits you in the year ahead.

Leo

Expanding your knowledge and stimulating your mind is what will keep you motivated for much of the month. You may be thinking about enrolling in a course or engaging in educational pursuits that will be challenging and rewarding. Due to the reverse motion of planets you may need to go back and revise on past studies so you can get up to speed. Tangled joint ventures, business partnerships and any other associations that you are involved with will be all encompassing. Money will be too tight to mention, feeling the pinch even more on the full moon March 10 with a few heated words and the tension rising. Nevertheless you're instigated to plan for the future together and need to lay down the law when it comes to finances and property if you are to survive comfortably in the next few months. Luckily financial providence steps in March 12 bringing in some sort of windfall or bonus which will ease these thrifty times. The new moon on March 26 will bring you hope and clarity for the future. plans and schemes can now be hatched with confidence that they will come to fruition.

Virgo

Meet and greets with people, conversations with business partners, and general communication with the world out there keeps you buzzing and on your toes. Opportunities with new beginnings will transpire over the year especially in relation to the work arena. March 1 you will be selling yourself, motivated to make changes in your working life. However before starting a venture ensure all is clear and above board, don't be foolishly enticed, all that glitters is not gold. Even though something may be handed on a silver platter, you know you do have to work hard to reap the rewards. Much of the emphasis this month will be all about relationships, personal or business and the influences it has on you for the future. Difficulties and petty quarrels may arise, intensifying at full moon on March 10, but you are instigated and motivated to get things done. Decisions will need to be made with concrete plans for the future put in place. By the time the month ends, after the new moon on March 25, you're on the right path, the future looks promising and there is much to share and enjoy together with another.

Libra

The spotlight is on the working life for much of this month, it's all happening and you're in the midst of the chaos. Being a placid individual, you keep your cool throughout the frenzy. Creative projects get the green light, you're motivated to push your ideas through and make them a reality. However as you perceive potentials for the future, ambiguous Neptune brings about vague conditions. You need to be practical in what is possible to achieve with limited resources of time and money. Choose and act in realistic terms to make these potentials manifest. March 10 full moon, brings about doubts in your capabilities, but you have nothing to worry about you have been here before and now older and wiser. Towards the end of the month the focus shifts to relationships of all kinds, it's time to reconnect with people from your past. Venus goes backward in your house of love from March 6, so you may go over old ground with an ex and deal with issues once again. Your current relationships are reviewed for future assessment; you're ready to make a commitment and this time round with a promise that you can develop this into something exceptional.

Scorpio

Enjoyment and pleasure will surround you for much of the month. Getting amongst it and socialising with people will keep you entertained and in good spirits. Chance encounters or a new love affair can take place at this time especially on March 12 when interesting, artistic people will enter your life now, adding some much needed sparkle and encouragement. Thoughts will be stimulated around imaginative, creative ideas; you're motivated to create new plans that will make changes. The home life is buzzing, movement and action is taking place, perhaps to renovate or buy and sell at this time. Nevertheless, confusion also reigns, due to obscure Neptune, so verify and re-check contracts and leases before signing on the dotted line. Friendships are under strain due to commitments at work infringing on your time away from loved ones and friends. On March 10, full moon it may be a make or break situation with someone, or departures and goodbyes can occur at this time. As they say when one door closes another one opens, it's all for the best so don't despair, the next few months bring joy in relationships and new creative ideas that will be inspiring and exciting.

Sagittarius

Change and movement within the home life will take a momentum of their own. There is much to do, such as moving house or renovating, which will keep your life in a state of flux. Transformations can also take place on a subconscious level; this is the breaking down of existing forms that goes all the way down to the foundations of your life. It is only after this transition can take place that are you able to rebuild a solid structure. Fiery Mars throws a few heated spats into the mix which does not help harmony within the home, but it certainly motivates you to get things done. The moon hits a high on March 10, in your career causing a commotion, you are under pressure and feeling the strain, balancing your home responsibilities and work load will take juggling act. March 12 sees out of the blue events occur and chance encounters, so don't dismiss anyone or anything at this time they may be signs that portend to greater opportunities. Reward and recognition are yours due to your sheer perseverance to tackle difficult tasks. So hang in there just the little longer, the winds of change are about to blow in any day!

Capricorn

Life is a state of frenzy and you're enlivened by the commotion around you this month. Activity will take place in the home, either through a purchase, change of living circumstance or renovation. Due to Venus residing in your home environment, there is a desire to beautify the home and make it an aesthetically pleasing and an inviting environment. However as Venus moves backward from March 6 you may need to redo something and revisit an old issue. Situations will be resolved after April 17 when you are able to rectify a problem and clear misunderstandings. There is an influx of money coming in but also depleting out, just be aware with nebulous Neptune don't overestimate your budget. The moon reaches a crescendo in the house of travel on March 10, ensure that you are well organised and planned as you could find yourself rushed and panicked at the last minute. A brainwave or creative project will receive a mental boost on the March 12, you are inspired now to make potentials manifest. A new home life beckons, soon you will start to live the life you have always dreamt of and there will be much to celebrate in the months ahead.

Aquarius

Life has been stuck in a bit of a rut of late and you're eager to get the show on the road. Firstly money or lack of is causing a concern for the future. Having accolades for work done is encouraging but now you want something to show for yourself. Being an inspired thinker, compensation is necessary for creative talent. Finances reach a crisis on the full moon March 10. Due to ambiguous Neptune, funds connected with another has its intricacies, perhaps you are investing in a business partnership or purchasing a property together, ensure that you go through contracts with a fine toothed comb and that plans are drawn out clearly for the future. Should you get into a tight financial corner, help arrives at the 11th hour on March 12 when a windfall or bonus sees you through till the end of the month. Relationships are positive and enlightening at the moment, so if you do get into a petty disagreement with another, fortunate Jupiter is helping you smooth out any mishaps. By month end opportunities will be in the offing so don't hold back when you are given the chance to really show the world what a genius you really are.

Pisces

The astrological spotlight is on you this month, changes are pending, and you're fearful yet excited about what lies ahead. Communications with many people take place, plans and schemes are set in motion for the future. Your plate is full with issues to contend with but you're determined to make it all work. Venus is reversing in your house of money, there is a desire to have beautiful things and obtain purchases, but lack of funds will put you in a financial dilemma so don't overstretch the budget. The full moon March 10, reaches boiling point in your house of relationships, conflicts arise and there may be petty arguments that turn into full blown disputes. Evaluations of relationships need to take place so you can truly understand another and move forward. Being rather highly strung at the moment you may find it difficult to relax, try to give your mind a mental break. By the end of the month, situations come to light that may be surprising but you will gain clarity exactly where you stand. Chance encounters with powerful people will help turn your vision into reality and assist you as you make your ascent up the ladder of success.
