

'The Grand essentials of happiness are: something to do, something to love, and something to hope for' Alan K Chalmers, Author & Journalist

November 2009 Overview

If you have been slogging away quietly you can finally breathe a sigh of relief. That heavy load that you have been carrying for a while is about to get a little lighter. Saturn, the hard taskmaster planet has finally departed from the long suffering and hard working sign of Virgo. Not only were Virgos affected but all signs when a planet resides for a long duration in a sign. For the past two years we placed responsibility and a dedication to a cause above anything else. Well now the difficult times are over we may be a little exhausted after the experience but we have learnt about limitations and our own endurance in the face of obstacles. I am not saying you will never have to work another day in your life, but other factors will now come into play that will be of significance. Saturn sets up home for the next few years in the sociable, people orientated sign of Libra. Partnerships, interaction and your relationship to the world is what will matter. Mercury the planet of communication enters the freedom loving sign of Sagittarius, so travel and holidays will be on our minds. We would rather be somewhere else rather than in the confines of where we find ourselves. However before you start drifting on a lilo, the year is nearly at a close so bust a move there still time to make it happen.

Monthly Stars – November

Aries

You'll be thinking money this month, how to spend it, how to save it, or perhaps just the lack of it. Try to curb your enthusiasm; if you spend big you will be paying for it in the long run. Wealth is really a symbol that embodies the value of our skills. So come full moon time of November 2, you will be assessing your worth and should you invest in yourself, through superannuation or even study for your financial security. Friendships have been under hazy conditions, everyone you know seems rather strange, if not downright a little weird, you were probably thinking it was you. Well it wasn't, blame it on the planets! This strange phenomenon will come to end; relations with others will be back on track and flourishing. Thoughts turn towards journeys, if you have returned from travel or about to embark on an adventure, you will be able to put your life back into perspective. After the fluctuations of your personal, professional and financial world, things begin to fall into place. Life is not always a battle and you will be recompensed in some way for efforts made. Faith in life and in your own capacities is finally gained.

Taurus

It all comes to a mighty crescendo on November 2 when the full moon peaks; finally you are able to bring projects to a closure. Coming into your own at this time, you shine, showing people just what you are made of. Career confusion subsides from early November, with ups and downs, arduous tasks, and unusual situation you have managed to keep it together despite it all even managing a laugh through the stress of it all. There may be still some tension in the work arena, you want to progress but impeded by others, you will have to grin and bear it; Rome wasn't built in a day. Attractions of the loving kind happen, the new moon on November 16 highlights your relationships, what develops now will be positive and fruitful. Connections that have been budding for a while go into a more spiritual and profound level. By month end you are on a financial high the sun beams in your house of money promising that there are benefits to gain for the hard work. Feeling confident, your energy soars, there is really nothing you can't do. Look out world you really are someone to watch!

Gemini

Doubts encircle your mind; feelings of uncertainties are magnified on the full moon of November 2. The road ahead seems a little hazy, should you travel down that rocky path or just remain standing? Being a thinker, time spent in a bit of inner reflection helps compartmentalise your crowded mind. Learning new skills or working on an unusual project may have been perplexing. From November 4 it begins to fall into place, clarity comes out of confusion. Love, remember that? Or perhaps a magnetism of some kind begins on the work front. Alienation will dissipate; finally you have someone to confide in and to share your ambitions and fears. From November 16 a new way to work or operate within your occupation begins, how people perceive you in a job will be changed forever. There is a lot to mull over this month, but you need to believe in your own vision, otherwise you may remain rather stagnate, stifled, never quite fulfilling a potential which is uniquely you. As Oscar Wilde once said 'To live is the rarest thing in the world, most people exist, that is all'. So start believing and living!

Cancer

Friendships past and present are at the heart of the matter this month. Perhaps you are ready to end a union. Or maybe you need to ask yourself some soul seeking questions. Are you a good friend? Do you give as well as take? Joint partnerships of the financial nature may have been a bit ambiguous; you're unsure how to be cost effective. Situations from November 4 become apparent, you begin to realise what needs to be done to yield some return on your investments. Love and children make you feel all warm and fuzzy as Venus highlights your social life. Get together spent with your nearest and dearest make you feel affectionate and loving. Home issues will be prevalent; there may be some discord in regards to changes to your living conditions. Life within a partnership is never quite a walk in the park; compromising and meeting someone halfway changes perspectives. Your career starts to ascend; a lot will be expected of you in the future. Count on your friends who understand and support you. Remember we all stumble on the road of life that is why it's a comfort to go hand in hand.

Leo

Finally you are beginning to get the picture, you know where you stand. Professional matters that have been in development are coming full circle. Evaluate your career, what progress have you made? Where do you want to be a year from now? This is the time to take some constructive steps and make an impact. However, beware of not getting too big for your britches when Mars stirs some heated passions as well as tension. Relationships that have been under a cloud of confusion now gain understanding. Saturn the planet of dedication in the communication house brings a need to be articulate in your dealings with people; a flippant remark can spell a breakdown, so say what you mean but mean what you say. The month brings a warm nestling air; it's time to feel at home with you and loved ones. Contentment comes from being alone, pottering and tending to household needs. The need for security and ensuring your residence is a sanctuary helps you deal with strengthening bonds within your relationship. There is a sense of belief in yourself, limitations and your strengths so strive forward certain of who you are and how you want to be perceived in the future.

Virgo

Travel, study and journeys come to the forefront at full moon time of November 2. Your world is expanding, you have a desire to travel and stretch your wings. Confusion at work will start to subside; now you can really start to make some headway. Venus assists your communication, adding a sense of friendly banter and sociability. Everyday activities will be easy to handle, nothing will get you down, your day will become a breeze which is certainly a change of pace. A strong personal connection will be made with someone who will be helpful and positive to you in the future. From the end of the month a new home life beckons a chance to begin again in more positive surrounding will help ease tension and give your life a sense of roundness and certainty. The new moon of November 16 brings in a fresh way of thinking and believing, and that you can achieve anything, the possibilities are now limitless. So look forward not back, past grievances, hurts and disagreements are well and truly gone you have learnt a lot, take it all with you, a brand new era is dawning for you.

Libra

Looking to get your financial affairs onto stable ground? Monetary dealings have been chaotic to say the least. Rein it in and start gaining control over your affairs. The full moon of November 2 will help you achieve future financial stability. If you are looking to get an approval on a loan, sell a property or organise a line of credit, start getting your ducks in a row and find some semblance of order before the year winds down. Venus in the money sector will give you a helping hand, easing financial constraints and paving the way for a lustrous new life. However you still harbour doubts, fears mull in your subconscious about job security and lack of time to fulfil your personal relationship obligations. Luckily, Mercury the thinking planet enters in the nick of time, erasing uncertainties and putting a positive spin. A love affair in limbo starts to alter; you were feeling vague and unsure just where the situation was heading. Understanding each other's needs brings harmony. The sky begins to clear you; finally you can see the path ahead and mainly understand what you alone want and how to achieve your personal happiness by yourself or with another.

Scorpio

Currently others hold the reigns in your life, difficulties and obstacles with people are inhibiting your growth. Being the sign of intensity, you hold regrets and rebuffs personally, deep inside of you. Coming to terms in how you played a part in precipitating events may help release emotions. Joint financial arrangements take effect when the moon becomes full on November 2; don't make plans when emotions are heightened wait until this time passes. Try using your powerful emotional energy in a cautious way; ideas need to be presented diplomatically if they are to gain results. Compromising may leave you with a false feeling but life may require it at this time. The home life is now on a sure footing, vulnerable feelings dissipate, situations improve and bonds develop with others. Venus enters into your sign, upping your popularity stakes, being admired for what you do will help build your confidence. As Saturn the planet of limitations enters your thinking zone, you will need to do some soul searching, face your own demons and doubts before you take any brave steps into future. Yes fate is about to come your way, trust the unforeseen which will lead you to a new and better life.

Sagittarius

Intensity of situations reach fever pitch in the work and health arena. So much to do and so little time! Reviewing your work life balance when the moon peaks on November 2, will help you come to terms with how to enrich your working life. Your body may have checked out, and now looking for reasons to relax and take a break. Focus on finishing jobs that has been dragging rather than dreaming idly of a holiday. Thinking and planning may have been under some unrealistic notions. Time needs to be factored to execute plans pragmatically rather than idealistically. From November 4, life swings back into balance, it starts to click, you won't feel like you're treading water. Satisfying your personal needs is what will drive you. Spending time alone will assist with your search and to build strength in preparation for future efforts. From November 16, personal revelations come to the surface. What is hidden comes to light, deals are being struck behind the scene so keep your cool and don't give the game away. The sun beams on you from November 21, bringing much needed vitality and a resurgence of energy. Take breather, once the hard work is done, this will really be your time to shine.

Capricorn

Love, creativity and children are under the glare of the full moon spotlight of November 2. A love affair won't be taken lightly; amorous feelings intensify as the month moves along. It may be hard to hide your true intentions for someone when you feel such strong emotional depth. Responsibilities with children will be weighing heavily; dedication and development to their future may be hampered by other issues and mundane matters. Financially you have been in a state of flux, money came in but disappeared all too quickly causing angst about the future. Mars luckily is activating the money sector, giving you great determination to see that dreams and aspirations in the material sense become concrete. However don't be enticed by the glitz and the glamour or being deluded in making costly mistakes. Venus shines vibrantly in your friendship sector bringing new people into your life, raising the popularity stakes and swelling your social networking numbers. By the end of the month, the sun enters your solitary zone, which will give you a chance to look back and see how well you have managed the art of living. Make plans while in hibernation, 2010 will be another monumental year so take some time out; you're going to need your resolute energy soon.

Aquarius

Alterations to the home life have begun; situations reach a peak when the moon becomes heightened on November 2. Focusing your energies in how you want to live and with who will keep you occupied. Having gone without stability and security for a while, there is a desire to begin living now. Of course don't get over your head financially in wanting to have the dream so quickly. Life has been fast and furious for the last six months, changes happened so quickly and chaotically. Being a flexible sign you took it all in your stride, but now you want assurance and a promise that all will be ok. From November 4, situations gain some clarity. Answers to uncertainties are finally cleared, giving you understanding about other people and how best to handle delicate situations. Thankfully, Venus is well placed for favourable circumstances. Those in authority are positive assisting you to meet your demands and to ensure that you reach your potential. By the end of the month, you feel rightly pleased with yourself and achievements gained over the year. This is not an inflated opinion but a realistic appreciation of your unique abilities and staying power. So go on pat yourself on the back you deserve it!

Pisces

The full moon of November 2 is causing you financial concerns. Monetary strategies are being pondered; plans need be made sooner rather than later to ensure financial freedom. Mental restlessness stirs up a desire for change, there may be a lot to do and complete before the year is through. Deadlines are looming so last minute details are crammed into the final hours. By November 4, the fog clears, fears and insecurities of the past are released especially in relation to other people. Having learnt some difficult lessons in the past, tactics now will be different, you certainly won't be travelling down the same path. Career matters will be the subject of conversation and discussion, your reputation is important, and you will feed off public opinion to access your next move and if what you produce is in demand. Idealistic visions of holidays and time spent lazing in the sun gives you optimism amidst what has essentially been a difficult year. Keep the faith, the wheel of fortune is about to turn your way, bringing a change of destiny in life. Early next year planetary changes will result in a fortunate time, so hang in there a glorious future that now awaits you.