

Definition of Karma: What you sow today, you will reap in the future.

'Thoughts become words, words become actions, actions become habits, habits become your character, character becomes your destiny' Gandhi Political & Spiritual leader

October 2009 Overview

After the drudge and difficulties of September due to backward moving planets, October will be a welcome relief and certainly a month to start ringing in the changes that need to be instigated before the year is through. Mercury planet of communication, in reverse motion slowed the month down, plans were difficult to get going, digital difficulties of a website and email nature surrounded us and relationship conversations got a little awkward. Also due to negative aspects last month, health and vitality were at a low. Life returns, now we are moving again, proceeding at a rapid rate, a release of creative energy spurs us on, vitality and confidence returns and we are ready to tackle unfinished goals with renewed enthusiasm. On October 29, Saturn the planet of limitations finally exits the duty bound sign of Virgo, as it does karma will come your way. If you been working hard with not much complaint, well stand in line for a promotion or accolades, if not lessons not learnt now will need to be revisited again in 12 years time. Saturn enters the partnership sign of Libra, personal and business relationships and how we relate to people will be the focus. A pivotal month indeed, dynamics shifts, a new chapter begins for all us.

Monthly Stars – October

Aries

A potent, passionate full moon on October 4 sets the tone for the month. Emotions will be heightened at this time; decisions are made with the heart rather than the head. Situations come full circle, reaching a conclusion. Mercury, communicative planet enters the relationship sector, discussion and talks with close partnerships are a lot more amiable. Unexplained and suppressed feelings can finally be discussed clearly and sincerely, and will ease any past misdemeanours. Working alongside someone rather than going it alone will ease the burden. Career conflicts will continue, try not to force your point of view; your efforts may provoke arguments over matters that will become inconsequential over time. Even though you may be causing a commotion, Venus luckily adds a dash of charm, and magnetism smoothing out any altercations. Responsible Saturn will be influencing your partnership house from October 29. This is really the beginning over an overhaul in all your relationships. Termination and a strengthening of bonds will be the order of the day if not the years to come. So get ready the fundamentals of how you relate to others is about to get an overhaul.

Taurus

Early in the month the full moon on October 4 reaches a peak behind the scenes; projects are being cooked up but not quite ready to come to fruition. Take your time, don't work in haste the world waits for well executed ideas. Working in partnership or with a group of people will progress effortlessly, moving swiftly to reach the finish line. Your career will now shift into high gear, you are finding your feet, even though the pace is frantic and the load a little heavy you are relishing the tasks and gaining enjoyment in seeing plans come to completion. The home life is cause for contention with Mars firing on all cylinders, there will be tension with those close to you, on the positive there will be much ado in getting your home life in order. A love relationship could develop with someone on the work front or you may have a confidante that you can share your woes. By end of October, partnerships of the intimate kind will be ready to take flight; yes finally you are ready to embark of the journey of love.

Gemini

The month kicks off with the October 4 full moon, which emphasises all friendships past and present. Current friendships have gone a little stale; you're expected to be there in a crisis sorting out dilemmas. Re-evaluate, see where you stand, make amends to the balance of power. There is promise of new people entering your life, bringing changes to current dynamics. During the month you will begin to review your goals. Are they your own aspirations or are you fulfilling someone else's needs? Articulate your desires if you are to be heard and counted. From October 14, fun and joy make a comeback. Expressing yourself through creativity will define your individuality giving you confidence to keep striving. The tempo of life picks up, energy will be high, you're motivated to move with a purpose. Self promotion or selling an idea will be well received, so get out there and talk the talk! Hopes and dreams may still seem so out of reach, but the wheel of fortune is about to turn. Hard work and dedication to your craft is rewarded, your time has come to get the karma mama!

Cancer

The full moon brings career confusion, where are you heading? Do you want to travel the same path again? Perhaps a change is in order. Are you ready to take a step into the big wide world, when it all seems so content here? Sooner or later you may decide between the security of what you already have and the uncertain possibilities of a new direction. Yet this new potential contains a life force and potential for growth. From October 14 you will finally gain some peace and tranquillity in your home far from the maddening crowd. Relationships around you will be warm and loving giving you the sustenance needed after strenuous months. There is a desire to increase your value in the world either by buying worldly possessions or through finances. Energy will be used in making money or launching a venture. The Sun enters your house of love and creativity from October 28 bringing pleasure back into your life; you will be free to express yourself. So get out there and enjoy! You deserve to live a little, save the worries for another day.

Leo

The October 4 full moon brings to mind the world of travel, there is need for freedom and adventure but you may be tied down by financial and personal responsibilities. Planning for a future journey will give you hope. With a flurry of activity this month, there will be interaction and stimulating conversations; the phone will be continuously off the hook! It will be go go go so take a breather and relax. You may be called up to put a large project or report together and even though it is a privilege you will feel overworked. Mars energy will give you the confidence to show the world just what you can do, you will be much more dominant than usual, be careful not to rub colleagues up the wrong way with brashness. Everyday activities will be pleasant and agreeable, you get together with friends and neighbours to simply socialise and talk. Relationships become more manageable any discord you had in the past has dissipated, good times and warm feelings remain. The future seems rosy especially with the support of many people to help ease the burdens of life.

Virgo

The full moon of October 4 highlights shared resources, a home loan or other assets entwined with another. Future payments plans need to be put in action, rather than extravagance, saving today will help ease constraints for the future. Love and personal partnerships will be tempered by practical considerations, you will be reflecting on the state of your life right now, your obligations and what a relationship means to it. By the end of the month the inspiring sun enters your house of communication accelerating the tempo of your life, dispelling any dark thoughts. Conversations with others will be optimistic and positive, beginning a time for clarity and renewed trust. The most exciting news for the month if not for the year is that Saturn the planet of hard work and responsibility finally leaves your sign. Breathing a sigh of relief you can now look back knowing that you been through hell and back and survived, even deriving some pleasure in mastering difficulties. It is now possible to understand the patterns of the past and plan for the future with hope and understanding for the road ahead.

Libra

Relationships past and present come to a crescendo on the full moon of October 4. Partners and other associates will be changing course, therefore having ramifications in your own life. Endings take place shifting the dynamics in an influential way. The upside is that connections and alliances that have been developing can build into something significant. There will be much discussion with others, you will find yourself in front of large groups of people selling and promoting. Coercing others to come aboard your vision won't be difficult especially with your sense of style and charm; they will be eating of your hands! From October 12 creative self expression begins to grow, you find the courage to be yourself without fear or apology. Conflicts of the past reach a resolution; relationships are built on honesty. The social life gets amped up, glamorous events, rubbing shoulders with VIP's will be on the agenda for the next the weeks ahead. October 29, Saturn makes a grand entry into your sign, marking a passage of internal growth for the next few years; the time has come for some inner navel gazing.

Scorpio

October 4, full moon, brings to light your current work and health situation, the long hours have taken their toll. As tasks have multiplied, the lack of time will be causing you to be short with everyone. Take a moment out to nourish your health and withdraw from the hullabaloo of life. Plans and thoughts lie below the surface, under wraps; you are not ready to reveal your master plan as yet. Friendships will prove rewarding and enriching, what begins now may not necessarily start off with flying sparks but over time will develop into an enduring and promising relationship. Mars power energy arouses your ambitions, however be aware of conflicts, too much energy expended can create combustion! New ways of working and relating transpire after the new moon of October 18. An opportunity to remodel your life is on the cards. From October 22, the illustrious sun moves into Scorpio hurling you into the spotlight, your batteries are recharged, confidence is high, and you're ready to make an impact. As your star rises balance your energy levels, it's really all about pacing yourself on your ascent in life.

Sagittarius

Creative stagnation occurs during the peak of the moon of October 4; you have a burning desire to create but may not be able to move forward due to lack of resources or time. Confusion has reined in the last couple of months, plans have been thrown into disarray and you feel a little out of control with demands and responsibilities. The conflict between maintaining a balance of your home and work life has been a battle, but you have learnt to handle your time wisely. From October 12, things fall into place, what may have seemed in the past insurmountable, suddenly feels doable and attainable. Venus the planet of love enters the house of friendship promising social possibilities and flirtations, friends become lovers and lovers become friends. Attractions of the heavenly kind take place under these conditions. Groups and close friends bring stimulation and an exchange of ideas motivating you to reach your vision. Energy and enthusiasm is activated into your house of travel the dream of taking off on an adventure soon with friends or a loved one keeps you striving through arduous days and long nights.

Capricorn

Reflecting on past family situations and issues will be emotional come full moon time of October 4. This will be beneficial in dealing with any misunderstandings and putting any wrongs right. The home life will also be hectic you may feel cooped up due to responsibilities of a personal, financial or work nature. From October 10, a favourable time to talk to your employer in regards to where you stand and where you will be heading. A little bit of self promotion won't hurt and will go a long way when the stakes are high and heads are counted. Relationships will develop with someone well established and powerful who will certainly be an influence in the months to come. Cash has been strapped of late and slogging at it with not much progress seems to be defeating the purpose. Hang in there, improvement finally arrives mid month, finances start to become flush, yeah its payback time! Not one to let anyone get the better of you, stick to your guns and don't make any compromises, from there on it will be a win win situation.

Aquarius

Full moon intensity of October 4 stirs up mental restlessness; a desire to change and make amendments threatens the old order. Asserting your new found independence will inevitably cause conflicts precipitating arguments and quarrels. Pioneering new methods activates new ways in your profession making you a natural leader; everyone wants to be part of your vision. Eagerness for a new dimension in your life instigates aspirations for knowledge thorough study leading you to unexplored territories of the spiritual or educational nature. October 13 onwards gives you the green light to come into your own, the year has offered you many bounties but so far they have been so out of reach. Dreams can now be realised, finally you are able to grab them with both hands and move forward with a purpose. However, leave plenty of room for last minute changes, nothing is set in stone as yet, circumstances are still shifting, and you will need to be resourceful and move with the tide. Energies are put into partnerships; together you work towards a united ideal building a solid foundation that will withstand the fluctuations of life.

Pisces

Money and the lack of doesn't make your world go round, the full moon brings financial matters to a head. Something needs to be done; there must be a way out of a financial tight corner. Being a creative thinker you find a resolution. If you play your financial cards right you will be reaping the rewards in the not too distant future. Inward reflection and issues that lie subterranean are food for thought during the month. Subjects of joint finances, sex and death are mulled over on a deep profound level. Venus the planet of love inflames desires of a sexual nature, bringing a greater intensity to relationships. Doubts that have gripped you gradually are released, through practical solutions and discussion. Feelings of pent up frustration may be directed at your profession, rather than causing any angst to yourself and people around you, channel energy into showing them all just what you can do, don't get mad, get even! So begin now, toss out some old habits to bring in the new, by the end of the month a few lessons learnt but you are the wiser for it.