

'To be a star, you must shine your own light, follow your own path, and don't worry about the darkness, for that is when the stars shine brightest' Anonymous

September 2009 Overview

The consequence of last month's eclipse has given us possibilities that new prospects await us. With only a few months left in the year, we want to move with purpose. Changes are pending, but progress will be slow due to backward motion of Mercury, planet of communication. Getting our act together won't be so smooth sailing. Plans go haywire, emails and conversations can get a little misconstrued and technological glitches arise. Signing contracts, starting a project or purchasing expensive items are best left until the end of the month. However, this is a good time to reorganise and spend some time making plans to be activated at the end of the month. The full moon of September 4 in Pisces will highlight all that is sensitive, artistic and musical. During this phase if inspired visions are lacking, the need to have more fulfilling creative ventures in our life will be apparent. The month of September in numerology relates to the number 9 the last number, and represents the closing stage of a project or period in our life. The date of 09.09.09 will be especially pivotal, we have come full circle; completion will finally give us satisfaction and achievement. Soon we will be ready to move on to a new phase in life, so instigate and make plans, a fresh chapter is about to begin.

Monthly Stars – September

Aries

The month of September will serve as reminder that changes are necessary to initiate. Stirrings for a more independent life often emerge in the form of petty disagreements. Conversations will be testy; you are prone to feel rather touchy and irritable. Communication with others will be seen as challenge and to chance to state your point of view. For this reason, people may tread warily around you for the fear of setting you off. On the plus side misunderstandings with friends and partners can be cleared, you find positive ways of expressing yourself fluently. Venus in your love sector sweetens the status quo, smoothing ruffled feathers, bringing ease and enjoyment to the working life from September 20. Attractions take place in the work arena, relationships blossom, circumstances bring you together, sharing the load with another takes the pressure. Bosses and superiors are supportive, understanding your greater vision to succeed. Clarity comes out of confusion, towards the end of the month, harmony prevails. The past leads you to where you are today; you are able to take what you have learnt personally and professionally with a new outlook into the future.

Taurus

Experience brings a wealth of knowledge. New ways to work and challenge yourself is upon you. Learning to balance your career and home life you achieve integration. September will see you firing on all cylinders, mental energy is elevated, every day activities will flow smoothly giving you the tenacity to work longer without suffering brain drain. Strongly opinionated at this time you know exactly what you want; people will gravitate to someone so decisive. Friendships will feel the heat of the full moon on September 4, if you are neglecting someone due to commitments, feelings may be put out; set any wrongs right before it reaches a three act drama. Technical hitches will appear in a schedule, ensure that you have Plan B when projects go pear shaped. This is a good time to foresee problems and eliminate them. Projects take longer to get off the ground, ensure you're thorough as the end of the month it will be all systems go. From September 18 flirtatious liaisons are in the nascent beginnings, bringing warmth and contentment back into your life. The world seems less daunting pointing to potentials and expectations that are to be fulfilled.

Gemini

Searching for knowledge of the educational and spiritual kind are in gestation, you want to learn and experience the world in body and mind. Embarking on something new will change your perspective bringing fresh hope to an otherwise uninspiring situation. Full moon fever on September 4 impacts your career and status, seeing yourself as how others see you will be at a disconnect. Time to PR and extol your virtues, creating a buzz will ensure you are in hot demand. The desire to invest in future dreams will be impeded by shortage of funds. Money is the root of the where the problems lies, and will need to be addressed should you wish to spread your wings in the future. Relationships that have lost their sparkle need some vivacity injected. Becoming disillusioned about the object of your desire might just be the case of having unreal expectations. Seeing situations for what it is warts and all will need to be faced truthfully. Home is the focus, building a haven far from the maddening crowd is what will keep you adjusted through changing times. Some 'me time' spent withdrawing from life for while will enable you to assemble your thoughts and replenish energy, preparing you for the next unknown chapter in your life.

Cancer

Raring to go, vigour and energy makes you assertive. Being exuberant you create an impression when casting your net professionally or personally. Lucrative opportunities and money making ideas abound, flourishing cash will come through investments or a hobby moving into a profitable venture. Buoyant monetary feelings will cause you to be excessive, rein it in and strategise finances to ease future dilemmas. Full moon emotions on September 4 highlight your yearning to expand your horizons. Being a fish in small pond you have reached your capabilities, there may be no where further to travel, other pastures are looking greener. Use this time to gather information rather than reach conclusions. Wait until end of September, go on your gut instincts and strike while the iron is hot to maximise potentials. Relationships that became unhinged are on the road to recovery, the past few months have given you food for thought. Development, learning and growth are part of the bigger picture in the years to come. Keep your mind flexible and be prepared for new experiences, being a creature of habit may close you off to new possibilities that may just sail by so be ready to grab with both hands when opportunity knocks.

Leo

The aftermath of the lunar eclipse in the relationship sector has changed your outlook for the better. Venus is adding spice into the love life; attractions go beyond mild flirtations, promising something more in the future. However, don't be influenced by beauty or money alone to take you to the dizzy heights of romance. General day to day activities will get out of kilter, and social plans will be up in the air. By month's end life resumes normality and exciting plans pick up where they left off. The main focus of this month is your resources; the full moon on September 4 brings matters to head, culminating with decision making on property or a financial issue. Be wise, save for a rainy day however the irrational side of you will want to spend with abandon throwing caution to the wind. Your value in the market will be up for contention, you need to ascertain how much you are worth and what people are willing to pay. After September 18 new financial plans are put into place, bringing some semblance of order and stability. Financial offers are put on the table, you come to realise yes you are truly invaluable and indispensable so get out there and do what you do best, shine!

Virgo

The after effects of last month's eclipse brings working life issues into focus. Personal matters intermingle with your career objectives; plans need to be made in regards to changing circumstances. It is time to formulate your goals and actively pursue them. Reaching a vision will be achieved affectively with others; this is not the time to go it alone. A display of confidence will need to be shown even if unsure of your capability, as they say 'fake it until you make it'. The full moon on the 4 September highlights personal and professional relationships. A connection with someone that shares your dreams and aspirations has the ability to manifest into something deeper. The financial future begins to take shape, finally you are rewarded for staying power, you are more valued than you believe, being truly indispensable makes your price rise higher in the market. September 18, begins the opportunity to make a fresh start and change your situation for the better. Venus ups the love factor into your life from September 20, people gravitate to you. Any difficulties and discussions are trouble free; you really have the 'wow' factor so use it to get who and what you want.

Libra

September will see you working behind the scenes; you're not ready to emerge. Last month a partnership may have ended or changes are taking place within an existing relationship. Emotions have been released; there is an opportunity to reflect on all that has happened. Due to Mercury moving backwards in Libra, impatience with others lack of understanding and slowness is hindering a project. Conflicts with co workers may arise; who will feel threatened by your efforts to get ahead, especially around full moon time of September 4. Being a placid person, don't give into this; it will only serve to make advancement more difficult. Take an impartial view on how others see you, strategise how you want to present yourself. Venus will add the harmony, affections from friends will be warm and supportive, and one in particular is progressing strongly to a bright future; however you may need to take your rose coloured glasses to view the state of affairs warts and all. Demand as little as possible and maintain a pleasant equilibrium, keep the atmosphere serene. Build strength in reserve so you will be ready for a brand new future different from the life that you have experienced so far.

Scorpio

Friendships and group associations will be the spotlight for much of the month. Amorous planet Venus will help ease arduous tasks on the work front, attracting people that will support and help with the attainment of goals. Relationships of the love nature or a close bond can develop with a colleague that will strengthen as times moves on. Meanwhile Mars activates the travel sector giving you an adventurous spirit to embark on a destination of the geographical or spiritual kind. You may be seeking soul searching answers; expanding your mind and spirit will help you achieve inner peace. The full moon on September 4 will affect creative ventures and plans, emotions will be tied up strongly with a project. Circumstances may not move as fast as you like and you need to be patient, wait for things to come together rather than forcing a situation. Once this full moon passes you may be able to see the state of affairs a little more rationally and complete a project. Keep the faith as you may be plagued with self doubt, fortunately with friends to help you climb the ladder of success there is really no reason to have reservations about the future.

Sagittarius

The spotlight shines on you in September; the working life is abuzz with activity. You're called upon to take over a direction of a task or project in which you are able to express considerable influence. This will propel your status onto a higher level; however responsibility will be equally as great. Communications, discussions and debates will be challenging and heated at times but certainly stimulating, watch out though you are liable to suffer fatigue. Venus in your travel sector expands your vision of the world attracting you to people of other cultures. Mental activities will come through the mystical artistic ventures broadening your mind and adventurous spirit. Within marriage and partnerships, there may be disagreements on the management of jointly held resources and expenditure of limited funds. Full moon on September 4 highlights the home, as you shoulder work responsibilities your personal life will suffer. Hopes, dreams and love aspirations may be left on the shelf for a while as you deal with other matters at hand. It may be a push and pull, but you will need to learn to time manage and balance your tasks to keep everyone happy, something you can manage quite well with your affable and positive personality So take a breather now and then, your star is on the rise!

Capricorn

Professionally you're at the stage of reinvention, the past way of working and surviving may not be serving your purpose financially or mentally. Examine your career and see if you're going in the direction you want and if you are making adequate progress. September is a favourable time to undertake a new hobby or study which will stimulate your intellect and give you a broader vision. The lunar eclipse last month was a wake-up call in the house of money, you have come to realise you cannot rely on one source alone. Power plays within business and personal relationships cause conflicts. This time you are not going to compromise, defend your ideas and beliefs by all means but don't look for a battle or create an issue where none exists. Mars activates flames to ignite in personal relationships, passion and energy will be thriving! The desire to make future changes stirs up mental restlessness on September 4, full moon time. Finalise matters and bring closure to issues, save ideas for later when you can dedicate time and effort. Yes a few stumbling blocks initially however they will give way to a clearer path further down the road. So fine tune and make some inner and outer changes, the metamorphosis has begun.

Aquarius

Last month's lunar eclipse activated the path for new changes within partnerships. The ending of one association, be it professional or business and the beginning of another is in its infancy. An intimate relationship reaches a new intensity, stimulating the physical side of this union.

Characteristics of another that may have remained below the surface come to light; dynamics in this partnership are changed, for better or worse. Energy will be thrown into your profession, frustrations will need to be tolerated, rather than getting angry, work through the tasks and lead by example. September 4 full moon highlights your money, spending will be based on emotional love needs rather than what is a practical or necessary choices. Concerns about finances or resources that are entwined with another will be the focus, possibly the dividing of assets or the plans to purchase a property together. Financially you will be able to tie up monetary loose ends; in the way of finalising a loan or savings plan, the time has come to gain profitably. During the month your beliefs and purpose in life may be under review. Broaden your mind and give yourself time to think in the midst of the mayhem. Searching for something of a higher purpose will help you gain inner peace and find answers and solutions to tricky situations.

Pisces

Post lunar eclipse of last month births new ways of thinking and working. A resurgence of energy brings about changes in how you are viewed and perceived by your peers. Working with others rather going solo will prove much more productive. Interrelations with colleagues and superiors will be harmonious, giving you the ability to resolve any difficulties that arises. The full moon of September 4 in Pisces activates the emotional sensors, making you very sensitive to the moods and feelings of others. Perceptions may be distorted as you may be thinking with feeling rather than logic. Financially, you will need to ascertain your debts and access your profits and losses, or if you have monetarily over extended yourself. Once the month comes to an end a new financial plan will need to be put in order. Within close personal relationships conflicts occur, you will feel irritated when you are told what to do and how to live. The solid stable structure of a union will be at odds with the more rebellious side to your personality. The opportunity to rebuild your partnerships and to begin again can happen after September 18; out of difficulties understanding and clarity transpire. Venus will help ease any altercations and misdemeanours adding charm and warmth into a union that was sorely lacking.